Mariachi Vargas Extravaganza continues through tonight at the Convention Center. Each year, the event draws thousands of students and professionals who want to master mariachi music. The event features workshops and competitions and is topped off with a performance by Mariachi Vargas de Tecalitlán, the world's oldest — and considered the world's best — mariachi group.
